

Environmental Studies Workshop on Sept 21, 2013 at EUREKA's World

Our Environment is magnificent and breathtakingly beautiful! Today children rarely get an opportunity to understand the ecological value and its significant role in their wellbeing. Curriculum development has not left much room to appreciate, evaluate and reflect on the possible solutions to major environment concerns.

It is responsibility of every law abiding citizen to sensitize and alert the future generations.

EUREKA's World has organized a workshop on Environmental Studies (EVS) to address the range of Environment issues which will include hands-on activities, development of research skills and methods of doing research on the range of environment related problems.
